

Transition hyped up for billion tonne Cloncurry potential

PRIVATE Cloncurry explorer Transition Resources is so impressed with the latest assays from its greenfields drilling in Queensland that it believes it may have discovered a multi-billion-tonne, gold-rich mineral system.

Exploration / Development > Discovery

It's a big claim, with little in the way of evidence beyond modelling yet, but drilling over a small area over the past year has provided plenty of encouragement.

Comments

Login

or Start a $1 trial to read the full article.